A warrant for felonious assault was issued and officers went to the residence and arrested a suspect.

The suspect, Rita Newell, was arraigned in 83rd District Court Tuesday, Aug. 2, on charges of felonious assault and assault and battery. The victim, the husband of the suspect, was treated and released at Mercy Hospital.

Grayling Twp. Revises Natural River Proposal

By Irene Pettyjohn

The Grayling Township Planning Commission held a public hearing on Tuesday, July 27, to present their proposed Natural River Plan zoning ordinance to the residents of Grayling Township.

Mary Allen, serving as temporary chairperson, explained that the proposed ordinance was not a completed document. She said that one of the purposes of the public hearing was to enable members of the Planning Commission to gain a better understanding of the opinions of the residents of Grayling Township before a final ordinance draft is presented to the Grayling Township Board. Allen assured everyone that the commission was open to all suggestions and would be considering these suggestions as they drafted the final ordinance proposal. She stated that even when the Planning Commission completed and submitted a final ordinance proposal it was still only the commission's recommendation. The final decision on the zoning ordinance would be made by the Grayling Township Board.

Allen stated that the public hearing was also necessary to comply with requirements of zoning laws to implement the mandated AuSable River Natural River Plan adopted by the Natural Resources Commission in September of 1987.

The Grayling Township Board must establish a zoning ordinance to regulate development and help preserve the natural value of the AuSable River by September 30, 1988, Allen stated, or the Department of Natural Resources' guidelines will automatically go into effect, and govern the land use along the AuSable mainstream and East Branch. The township has the authority to make the State's regulations more restrictive, but it cannot reduce the State's regulations.

It was the contention of the planning commission that Grayling Township was more qualified to regulate land use in Grayling Township than the DNR.

Steve Jorgenson, AuSable River property owner, expressed his opposition to all condominium and multi-family dwelling development on the AuSable River. His sentiment was echoed by Dwight Hasson, President of the AuSable River Property Owners Association (current membership: 188), and Calvin Gates, Jr., representing the Anglers of the AuSable (approximately 700 members). These men agreed that cluster development should be prohibited, and the one family dwelling per 200 feet of river property restriction now in effect through the Green Belt regulations be retained.

Jorgenson also suggested that a regulation stating that accessory buildings shall not be erected in the required front set-back be added to the proposed ordinance, and that the allowable size of accessory buildings be reviewed by the commission. As the proposal was written very large pole barns could be built on river property.

Jeff Silagy, DNR Resource Specialist, was present to explain the DNR's position on the zoning ordinance adopted by the Natural Resources' Commission. He

Marathon Records Fall in '88 Race

Thousands of cheering, charged-up fans lined the riverbanks in Grayling Friday evening as a cannon blast signaled the start of the 1988 Budweiser AuSable River Canoe Marathon. The teams sprinted with their canoes a quarter-mile through the streets to put their canoes in the AuSable river at Ray's Canoe Livery in a frenzied, adrenalin charged start.

The two-person teams paddled over 120 river miles non-stop, overnight, battling log jams, dam portages, exhaustion and the scattered thunderstorms that dotted Northern Michigan overnight into Saturday morning. They maintained a pace of 60-90 strokes per minute during the entire 14 1/2 to 18 hours it took to complete over 50,000 paddle strokes to Oscoda, on the shores of Lake Huron.

Last year's Marathon Champions - Brett Stockton, of Grayling and Serge Corbin of St. Boniface, Quebec set a fast pace right from the blast of the starter's cannon. They sprinted the 1/4 mile run to the river in the first position and never looked back.

They paddled to Stephan's Bridge, the first timing checkpoint, just minutes off the record split time. They were closely pursued by several teams, including Team No. 1, Randy Drake, of Virginia Beach VA and Tim Triebold, of Marinette WI who were among the pre-race favorites to challenge Stockton and Corbin. Also showing a fast time to Stephan's Bridge was Marathon Women's and Mixed Team record holder Lynne Witte, of Mt. Clemens and her teammate Jim Myers of Traverse City.

It was as indication of things to come.

Stockton and Corbin, paddling a consistently fast pace, kept the pressure on the teams chasing them. Their split times throughout the course of the race were near or under record split and point to point record times. They gradually widened their lead to eventually reach over six minutes.

As daylight broke the distance between the Stockton - Corbin team and their pursuers gradually narrowed. No longer hampered by darkness, Triebold and Drake, not as familiar with winding AuSable River course, were able to quicken their pace. They passed eventual third place finishers Dave Shepherd of Frederic, and Rick Joy of Silverwood. Stockton and Corbin's lead over Drake and Triebold narrowed.

The '87 Champs were equal to the challenge. They broke by forty seconds the AuSable Marathon record time of 14:20:40 (fourteen hours, twenty minutes, forty seconds) set by Brett's uncle, five-time consecutive Marathon Champ Butch Stockton of Higgins Lake, in 1984 with Solomon Carriere of Cumberland House, Saskatchewan. Carriere was paddling this year with Bruce Barton of Homer, a U.S.C.A. (United States Canoeing Association) national champion in many canoe and kayak racing disciplines.

It was Brett Stockton's fourth consecutive Marathon victory and sixth overall, pushing him past his uncle Butch and trailing only Ralph Sawyer who dominated the Marathon in the late 50's and well into the 60's with eight Marathon victories.

Drake and Triebold took second place in 14:24:01, the third fastest AuSable Marathon ever, a tremendous showing considering their relative unfamiliarity with the winding upper stretches of the river paddled over night. The pair were quite pleased with their performance, considering that they had not had much practice time as a team prior to the Marathon. They indicated that they did well after the evening's full moon rose, which shed some light on the winding AuSable and its many obstacles.

Carrier and Barton withdrew from the race near the Marathon's mid-point at McKinley Bridge. Though among the top teams at the time, they were not keeping the pace that they had preset as a goal. Five time Marathon second place finisher Tony Short, of Johannesburg, and teammate Jim Harwood of Grayling withdrew from the race shortly later.

Lynne Witte and Jim Myers set a new Marathon mixed-team record of 15:05:26 shaving twenty minutes off the old mark in taking fourth place, the best-ever Marathon women's AuSable Marathon Performance. Witte said that passing four or five other teams a couple of hours into the race really helped charge her and her partner. She went on to note that she felt quicker and more consistent with a male partner, though she does not necessarily favor paddling mixed-team over women's team paddling.

Amateur division winners were Ken Witte of Mt. Clemens, and Mark Bills of Mio in DAYLIGHT START - Serge Corbin, front of lead canoe, and Brett Stockton, back, raced to a quick lead between Ray's and the back bridge. The second canoe shown here of Tim Triebold and Randy Drake briefly took over the lead after about an hour but Corbin-Stockton regained it and held on to win in record time. The 9 p.m. start gave race fans a good view of the race in the early stretch. (Jon Thompson photo) answered questions regarding cluster construction, multi-family dwellings, and their guest house policy.

At the conclusion of the hearing the question of a second public hearing was raised, so that residents could learn what the final draft would contain before it went to the township board. Allen stated that a special meeting would be held before the recommendations were submitted, and that the date of the special meeting would be publicized in the paper. Before adjourning the public hearing Allen stated, "All of the questions that were brought up today, I assure you, will be seriously considered. We aren't going to have a public hearing and then ignore the comments that were made."

A special meeting was held on Friday, July 29. The Planning Commission drafted a revised proposal, and set August 30, as the date for their final public hearing before submitting their recommendations to the township board.

74 Music Students Attend Master's Workshop

The Grayling Viking Band Boosters, using funds generated by the Christmas Fruit Sale and the spring Band-a-thon, sponsored a master's workshop for Crawford AuSable School District band students during the week of June 20. Band director Dennis Ormsbee said that 74 CASD music students participated in the five days of morning and afternoon sessions.

A panel of instrumental music experts taught master's classes to students in grades 5 through 12. A master's class, explained Ormsbee, is a private lesson given in a group setting. The experienced clinicians and musicians who taught the classes included: Gary Sutton, brass; Carl Gippert, reeds; Suzann Gippert, flute; and Barry Bennett, percussion.

Ormsbee is certain that the workshop will expand next year and the instrumental music department will improve as students take advantage of what he hopes will become an annual event.

Middle School students attended daily from 9:00 to 11:30 a.m. and high school students attended from 12:30 to 3:00 p.m. each day. The workshop was offered at no cost to students who sold five or more cases of fruit in last winter's sale. The cost was $15 for other students and scholarships were available.

Northern Views

By Jon Thompson

Many folks around Crawford County who usually don't read a lot of poetry tell the Avalanche staff they enjoy Joe Murphy's verses found each week on the Feature Page.

Natives and long-time residents enjoy the local history Murphy often writes about. Murphy was born in Frederic and has spent most of his life in Crawford County.

He has written dozens of poems about characters and places he knew as a child — Rattlesnake Jim, Samson Johnson, Old Frankie in the woman's dress, the Brown Girls, and Leng's General Store.

Although Joe has written more than 140 verses since his retirement from Camp Grayling in 1984, he's put together a special collection of Frederic poems to help out the Frederic Community Library building fund.

Autographed copies of "Memories of Frederic, My Hometown," written by Joe

Murphy and illustrated by Merna Glen Newberry, are available for a donation of $20 or more to the building fund.

If you're from the Frederic area, this is a piece of history you'll want to see. But it's also great reading for anyone who likes a very real view of the simple life in the early days of a small town.

Copies are available from the Frederic Library or by mail through Joe Murphy, 603 Maple, Grayling, 49738.

On another historical note, in the Milltown Keepsake Edition published last week, the M. & N.E. railroad depot photograph on page 40 was incorrectly identified as being the depot which was renovated and currently houses the county museum.

The M. & N.E. depot was located farther north near where C.F. Fick & Sons is located, north of 72-West and west of the tracks.

Schmidt Family Says Good-bye To Grayling

The Schmidt family would like to express our gratitude and thanks to the people of Grayling for the best three years of our lives. Without a doubt, the City of Grayling should be declared an All-American City, even though we did not appear in Money Magazine's "The Top 300 Places."

From the beginning of our family's stay here, every courtesy, friendship and interest were freely given us. My statement as a new Commander that "The Prospects Here Were Exciting" still stands. Grayling, Camp Grayling and the surrounding area are alive with positive, dynamic and exciting actions and potentials. We will always continue to be interested, enthused and excited about Grayling.

In closing, let us say "The Very Best To You, Grayling."

County Fair Board Acknowledges Hunter, Davis

Dear Jon,

I would appreciate it if you could help me apologize publicly to Mr. John Hunter, Attorney at Law and candidate for Crawford County Probate Judge, for omitting his name from the 1988 County Fair Premium Booklet ... Mr. Hunter is not only a member of the Crawford County Fair Association, but he is the Chairman of the Activities Committee, as well.

I would also like it known that the Hon. Alton T. Davis serves as our Vice President and as the Chairman of the Grounds Committee.

Leaving these two important facts out of the booklet was a very unfortunate oversight.

Sincerely,

State Courts Handled 3.4 Million Cases in 1987

Nearly 3.4 million cases were filed in the state's trial courts during 1987, according to the annual report released by the State Court Administrative Office.

State Court Administrator V. Robert Payant reported that the circuit courts showed the greatest success rate with 10,000 cases pending at the end of 1987 as compared to 1986.

Cases pending over two years in the circuit court system showed a decline of 8.8 percent.

Payant added the circuit courts, in their friend of the court operations, reported collections of $629 million in child and spousal support, an increase of $31 million over 1986.

The report further noted that probate courts saw increased filings in both probate and juvenile cases.

Since 1983, filings have increased annually with 63,984 new supervised decedent estate cases, of which 19.9 percent were conservatorships and the rest involved trusts adoptions and escheated property.

Of the 38,828 new cases in the juvenile division of probate court, Payant said 75 percent involved delinquency with the remainder being cases of juvenile neglect or abuse.

The 1987 annual report prepared by the court administrative office, noted that 100 district courts received over 2.9 million new cases during the year, an increase of 5.7 percent from 1986.

Seventy-seven percent of the filings were traffic related, 13 percent were civil, and small claims, while 10 percent concerned criminal issues.

The report noted an average of 11,830 new cases per judge were filed in the district courts during 1987.

Community and Junior Colleges Get High Ratings

Ninety-three percent of Michigan's community and junior college students said they were "getting their money's worth", according to the first statewide opinion survey of both full- and part-time community college students.

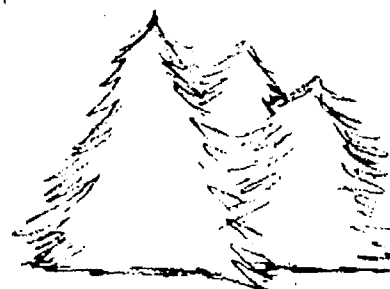

The survey, conducted by Project Outreach of the State Board of Education, polled 1,200 students.

Other areas receiving "good" or "excellent" ratings by students included library services (82 percent), admissions counseling (68 percent), computer labs and facilities (66 percent), course selection counseling (65 percent), study rooms and areas (61 percent), parking availability (57 percent), financial aid assistance (55 percent) and tutorial help (53 percent).

Also, 96 percent of the students rated tuition as either "very reasonable" or "somewhat reasonable."

Notes from the Woods

By Nancy Lemmen

It's almost two years to the day that we buried Buddy. Billy Budd was his official name. Dave named his black Labrador Retriever puppy after the noble young seaman of the Herman Melville story. But for the decade he lived he was always our Buddy and our buddy.

The most notable aspect of Buddy's tenure with us was that two ordinary people and an average dog could engage in such a magnificent love affair. Physical and personality defects in humans and in animal — and there were many on both sides — were superseded by exceptional adoration.

If truth be told, maybe Buddy would have been rated a below average dog. It's difficult to be objective. His face was wide and handsome; his coat was beautiful. I loved to stroke the very soft fur of his chest. He carried his tail proudly and high in the air. He missed physical Lab perfection, though, because of his shape and size. He was perhaps too stocky and weighed only about 65 pounds.

He's a Piper Cub Lab, said a friend, referring to his diminutive stature — the size of Lab Alaskan hunters choose, because they fit easily into small airplanes. As he aged, he gained weight, and the same friend described him as a sausage with legs.

The two major themes of his life were water and retrieving. He spent his first year on the shore of Torch Lake and the rest of his life near the Mainstream of the AuSable River. His introduction to water came at three months when he was accidentally pushed off our dock by an adult dog. That was the first and only time he disliked water. From then through middle age, if he found willing associates, he would work eight-hour days retrieving sticks and balls thrown into the water. I knew he was aging the first time that he willingly chose to end a retrieving session before his human partner tired.

The minor themes of his life were food, then Dave and me, fairly certainly in that order. It was our theory that Buddy would swallow a piece of burning glass tossed his way before determining its edibility. We also believed that if we were drowning in the river and a raw steak was lying on the shore, Buddy would eat the meat before retrieving us.

But we always accepted our places in Buddy's hierarchy of priorities, just as I think he accepted his place in ours. The first time I kenneled him, I worried that he would be so distraught at our leaving him with strangers that horrible, unimaginable things would happen to him between the Friday evening when we left and the following Sunday afternoon when we returned. But he seemed untraumatized when we picked him up. The kennel owner told me that some animals are so upset at being left that they leave their food untouched. And Buddy? I asked, not hoping he had gone hungry, but sort of wishing his appetite had diminished in my absence. He ate everything that was put in front of him, she replied.

one-mile circle we regularly ran with him. Dave and I and Jody, his kennel mate, would finish our runs and come home to find him lying in the cool dirt under the porch. Every day he still asked us to throw a stick or a ball, but after three or four tosses he retired with his toy to his spot under the house.

In the spring of 1986, I told a friend that Buddy seemed old and slow and I sensed he was coming to the end of his life. I was right. We found out a few weeks later that cancer was consuming his lungs, making him short of breath, weakening him, causing him to cough uncontrollably.

The local veterinarians were capable and concerned and kind, but they knew of no miracle cures for an incurable disease. I took him to the Michigan State University School of Veterinary Medicine to see if they knew of some miracles. They attempted surgery; but after opening up his body, determined that the cancer was so extensive, any heroic efforts to remove his tumor might still result in death on the operating table. Don't try, I told them. I want to bring him home for the weeks or months that he still has.

He had only a scant few weeks left. We spent much of the time with him, although he preferred to lie off by himself. He and Jody stayed in the house and slept in our bedroom, instead of in their outdoor kennel. Every night I prayed that he would die peacefully in his sleep. Every morning I awoke to his coughing. When he became too weak to walk up the stairs to our room, we all slept downstairs in the den. During his last night, he stood up to cough, then remained standing, his formerly strong Lab tail hanging straight down, as if he knew more coughing was coming and he lacked the energy to lie down and stand up continuously.

In this and other ways, he told us he was dying. We could have let him go on to probably die of pneumonia caused by the cancer or we could end his life for him. We chose the latter.

Dave and I dug his grave on a sunny August Sunday. For whatever reasons, we took great pride in the fine grave. On Monday, kind friends loaned us their cottage on the AuSable, where we spent the day. He rested mainly, but twice he played tug-of-war with Jody and retrieved sticks from the water. His lungs could not keep him afloat anymore and it scared him a bit when he sank, but he played on the edges of the water.

I believe that he was still wet with AuSable River water when we drove him to the veterinarian's office for his last shot. He seemed so perky and happy riding in the front of the pickup with us that I almost lost my nerve. A need for last-minute miracles stayed with me. But Dave stayed strong and I'm glad we chose a day for him to die on which his good times outweighed his bad.

In the examining room, we held him and murmured loving words as he slipped away. Then we went outside to hold each other and cry. Dave drove the truck home and I held Buddy on my lap. We buried him out near his kennel with his sticks and balls and a good supply of his beloved dog chow and milk bones for whatever journey awaited him.

Surely we will bury more dogs. Jody insisted on an immediate replacement, Missy, and we have since added little Murphy to the family. There will probably be others. I hope that burying them will be no harder than burying Buddy. I don't think I could stand the pain in my chest.

But I'm not complaining. He lived ten years, which would be about 70 for a human. He lived well and he was well loved. I do not ask for more. I trust that Buddy was also satisfied.

Almanack

Dukakis off to good start

by Richard Milliman

DEMOCRATIC PRESIDENTIAL nominee Gov. Michael Dukakis is off to a fine start in his quest for the White House.

This is one of the personal conclusions reached after observing from afar at the Democratic National Convention in Atlanta.

Dukakis-backers wondered what sort of image their champion would present to a waiting nation, much of which had been exposed to the Massachusetts governor only in film clips and newspaper interviews.

In Atlanta, Gov. Dukakis came across (at least to this observer) as a competent, in-charge sort of guy. Maybe he's not a spellbinder on the platform, but he's not a complete cipher at the podium, either.

Many candidates have been much better as campaign speakers (Adlai Stevenson, John F. Kennedy, Ronald Reagan, for example); but many have been not so captivating, either (Walter Mondale, Jimmy Carter, Gerald Ford come to mind).

All in all, Mr. Dukakis did all right. He didn't hurt himself a bit.

NOW FOR SOME other conclusions, drawn solely from newspaper and television coverage of the Atlanta shindig:

— That Jesse Jackson. He's a wonder. Until the final day, you would have thought Jesse Jackson was the nominee, not Michael Dukakis.

The Rev. Jackson completely dominated the attention right up until Gov. Dukakis' acceptance speech. That's not too bad for a candidate who won only a handful of primaries and caucus backings, and whose principal claim to attention was that he stayed in the presidential race longer than any other loser.

Mr. Jackson is a genuine spellbinder. He's a winner on the platform, and he obviously has a much more committed following than any other politician currently active on the national level.

Mr. Jackson's basic philosophy of government is simple enough: It seems to be to take from those who have, and give to those who have not. But it also is tempered with a demand for self-help. The combination of approaches has broad appeal.

Jesse Jackson will be a force for some time to come, both in the Democratic Party and in the nation as a whole. He has earned deference and consideration.

THE OTHER half of the Dukakis ticket — Sen. Lloyd Bentsen of Texas for vice president — appears to be about as safe as you can get. Sen. Bentsen likely will not add very many votes to the Dukakis appeal ... but he likely won't lose many, either. He's safe.

Another point: He's probably too old at 67 to be a serious rival for president in the post-Dukakis years.

One of the sidelights of the campaign will be to see how Mr. Bentsen trims his sails to make his own record and his own views dovetail with those of Mr. Dukakis. On the surface, they are miles apart on about a dozen important issues.

But it all will work out. It has in the past. Look at the marriage of John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson, or Ronald Reagan and George Bush.

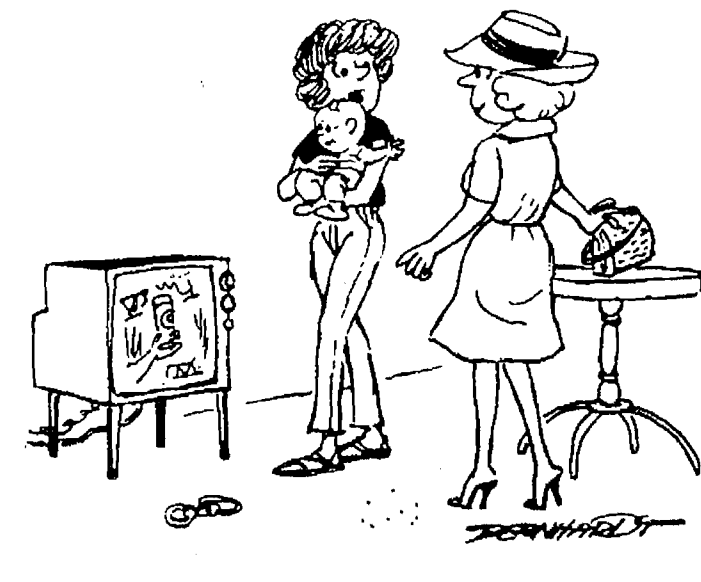

The vice presidential candidate is really not very important in most cases in how the election will turn out. Neither is the party platform. After the nominating convention, neither draws much attention.

AS FOR THE Michigan application, Democrats will end up united for the Dukakis ticket, despite the pulling and hauling and posturing between the Jackson people and the non-Jackson people.

After all, where are Michigan Democrats going to go? For George Bush?

That's not very likely.

Promises! promises! We told you we would write more and we have not done it! A bright surprise was on the corner of Smith and Maple when we discovered Bea Smith's house all redone in pale yellow or cream, new windows and all. The house has been brown ever since I can remember - it looks nice, Bea! Hindmarshes have some bright geraniums in planters and the Ziglars at the Greenhouse have done more landscaping and trimming of trees, very nice. The Hiltons on Chestnut have their usually good vegetable garden and a striking display of hollyhocks. Mike Brady behind them has a garden again, but no corn! I can't believe that after all these years he's given up on the corn! His yard and garden look nice anyway.

Earlier this spring the Gildner gang were at it again, this time their present to their mother was a completely new resided house. They always look as though they're having such a good time doing it. Tillie Gildner also has her red impatiens along the front walk and many colored roses on the side. The backyard is hidden but there must be lots more flowers back there.

Along the business loop the library planters are overflowing with petunias and Moore's Automotive has nice green grass, shrubs and some flowers - well taken care of. More next time.

Bits of Talk

By Sandy McAnallen

The Milltown Festival is over for another year. The festival is truly one of the events that makes summer fun in Grayling. Last Thursday was the children's day of the Festival. The Children's Day parade had floats and decorated bikes, wagons, and strollers filling Michigan Avenue. Later, in the City Park, there was a pet show. Katy Johnson won a prize for the smallest pet. She owned a goldfish who's home was accidentally overturned shortly after it was awarded its trophy and died from lack of water. There were rabbits dressed in interesting outfits and even people with a crab for a pet. A large black dog that barked on command won two trophies - one for the largest pet and one for the loudest pet. The kids day of the Milltown Festival also hosted some art projects for the kids to participate in. Many children at the part had their faces painted by volunteer face painting artists like Kim Ackerman, Lana Hagon, Dawn Elekonich, Shawn Hetrick, Nicki Lawnaunce and Michelle Steiger. Jessica Ashworth was the major helper of the painting made with a spray bottle. Her brother, Shawn Ashworth came over to see how she was doing from time to time. Stacey Johnson's cousins, Audrey and April Kowalski, were here from Ann Arbor for the Milltown festival and for some fun swimming with Stacey at Higgins Lake. April and Audrey are eight-year-old twins and they got to ride on the Half Price Outlet float in the Kid's Day Parade.

George and Betty Richter were happy to have a couple of special guests for six days in mid July. Their 29-year-old grandson, Andy Trillow, and his friend, Dorothy, were thoroughly entertained while they were here visiting with the Richters. The four-some visited Project Nature one day, the Sleeping Bear Dunes another day and on other days they toured Camp Grayling and the Grayling Fish Hatchery. The best time spent, though, was paddling their canoe down the AuSable River. The Richters took videos of the excursions during the visit and then they would watch them at the end of the day's events.

Norm Peppler has had a couple of young visitors recently. His nine-year-old grandson, Kyle Moffatt, from Flint joined Norm for a visit to Project Nature one day in July and they enjoyed it so much that when Kyle got back to Flint and told his brother, Ryan, about it, Ryan said he'd like to go. So Norm took his other grandson, eleven-year-old Ryan, to Project Nature the next week.

Deacon Bob Nolan and his wife Helen are moving to the Tawas City area. Members of the Catholic community and many other people of Grayling will miss him. His Farewell Dinner at the Knights of Columbus Hall July 29 was a testimony to the many people who have come to know that Bob and Helen Nolan were an asset to the Grayling Community.

A record breaking attendance of 1000 persons marked the 22nd Biennial Convention of the Michigan District Lutheran Women's Missionary League, July 12-14 at Hope College, Holland, Michigan.

A mission goal of $100,000 was set by the 476 voting delegates.

Attending from this area were Marge Olver, Vice President of LWML at Mt. Hope Lutheran Church, and Pam Moggo.

CHOOSING THE RIGHT CONTACT LENS

QUESTION: How does a person know what type of contact lens to choose?

Your general health, eye health, vision and lifestyle needs are all a consideration in determining what contact lens would be the best choice. Contact lens options include, Soft, Rigid Gas Permeable, Standard Hard, Extended Wear and Toric Soft Lenses for astigmatism. Cost may also be a factor in your decision in lens type. Just remember - base your decision on the lens that is safe, comfortable, and provides the best vision. Have you ever waited for a claims check? And waited? Maybe you should learn about the "no problem" people from Auto-Owners. They take pride in their fast, fair claims service. What's their secret? It's their common sense approach. They know having a claim isn't one of life's pleasures, so they try to make it a bit more tolerable for you. Local Bowlers Win $3,500 State Tournament

The Grayling Floor Covering bowling team brought home the $3500 first place prize in the 23rd Annual Northern Michigan Women's Championship Tournament held in Sault Ste. Marie.

The women, Chris Wolfe (captain), Cindy Green, Maribeth Malone, Debbie Gildner, and Barb Walker, took first place position when they bowled on March 19 and 20, and held the lead score for 11 weeks, beating 680 other teams.

Green attributed their victory to "outstanding" bowling by every member of the team. "Everyone bowled above their average," Green stated.

Malone not only bowled 52 pins over her average to help her teammates take first place, but her three game score plus handicap of 735 gave her 22nd place in All Events. Green's score of 634 was 21 points over her average, and gave her 76th place in All Events. The All Events category involved

3,106 contestants.

The 23rd Annual Northern Michigan Women's Championship Tournament was held at Dondee Lanes and began on February 13 and concluded on June 6. The tournament was divided into four categories: team, doubles, singles, and all events.

Grayling Floor Covering, owned by Rex Headapohl and Norm Pepler, has sponsored the team for four years. In local league standings the team has placed 3rd in 1985-86; 6th in 1986-87; and 2nd in the 1987-88 season. Headapohl and Pepler proudly display their trophies in the Grayling Floor Covering showroom, and are waiting for the arrival of the team's newest championship trophy.

This is the first year that this group has bowled together as a team. They will be returning as a team for the 1988-89 Legion Lane's bowling season.

Martinez Wins 3rd Club Championship

For the 3rd year in a row Rudy Martinez won the Grayling Country Club's stroke play championship.

Martinez's 76 for 18 holes was the lowest score ever recorded for the Grayling tournament. Tom Schans, Martinez's closest competition, put his 2nd shot in the water on the final hole and did not finish.

The top six places went to Martinez, Jim Smith, Chris Trim, Alex Shin, Roy Vogelsberg, and Schans.

The tournament was held July 31.

Thank You

We want to thank the classmates and long-time friends of our brother, Bill, who were with us at his memorial service on July 19. It was a beautiful tribute to him. The words of the sermon and prayers spoken by Pastor Robert Gordon were most comforting to us. A special thanks to Clara Sorenson for serving coffee hour after the committal.

In appreciation, Mary Harrison Bristow, Laudy Harrison, Rudy Harrison and their families

Fast Break Bar B.Q. Opens To A Fast Start

Buzz Krause opened the Fast Break Bar B.Q., located at 108 Michigan Ave., on May 1st. The idea for the business came from a pleasant childhood memory. Buzz grew up in the Detroit area, and he remembers his father bringing home delicious barbecued ribs and chicken for dinner from a neighborhood business. "We prepare our chicken and ribs in the same way," said Krause.

The Fast Break Bar B.Q. is a family venture. Buzz and Diane Krause own and operate the business with assistance from their three sons, Tim, David, and Marty Jung.

The Krauses have been residents of Crawford County for 15 years. The family is sports oriented, and enthusiastically supports all Viking sports. Tim, David, and Marty have all been involved in the Grayling High School athletic program. Marty will be quarterbacking the varsity football team this fall.

The 'fast break' portion of their business name was taken from the name of a fast-paced basketball maneuver. A fast break is when one member of a squad 'breaks' away and either dribbles the ball or has the ball thrown downcourt to him enabling him to score before the other players can catch up. The name the Fast Break Bar B.Q. was suggested by Marty, and everyone was in instant agreement.

The name is very appropriate - for the Fast Break Bar B.Q. offers their customers an opportunity to make a fast break into the afternoon or evening activities, leaving the time consuming cooking and cleaning chores behind.

The Fast Break Bar B.Q. shares a business location with Muddicks Fudge which is also owned by the Krauses. The shared space allows Diane to manage both businesses, and customers an opportunity to replenish their Muddicks Fudge supply when they pick-up their barbecue order.

Customer's can order from a menu which offers five different dinners. There are also two different size dinners, a regular size meal and the Fast Break's He Man Size that features a whole barbecued chicken or slab of ribs. All their dinners include cole slaw, potatoe salad, ranch style beans, and corn bread - all made fresh daily.

The ranch style beans are made from a special family recipe, and then baked slowly all day, until the flavor is excellent. Customers have been known to place large orders, and then explain that they are taking the beans to a family reunion ... and intend to claim them for their own homemade beans.

The Fast Break Bar B.Q. offers lunch specials which include barbecued chicken on a bun and a Rib Steak (ribs chips and cole slaw).

Customers looking for a cool refreshing dessert will find Colombo frozen yogurt. The Fast Break is the only food service establishment in Grayling where the delicious frozen yogurt is sold.

The Fast Break Bar B.Q. is open daily from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m., and from 10 a.m. to 12 midnight on Friday and Saturday. Call-in orders as well as walk-in customers are always welcome.

HE-MAN SIZE DINNER — Diane Krause and Kelli Alimenti are shown with their He Man Size barbecued rib dinner.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED — Tom and Jane Trenary along with Duke and Carol LaMotte of Grayling wish to announce the engagement of their daughter, Lisa Kaye LaMotte to Jason Rasmussen, son of Jack and Joan Rasmussen of Grayling. An August 20th wedding is planned.

GARDEN FLOURISHES IN DROUGHT — Ray Kehr has been gardening for 65 years, and this year is no exception. He attributes his success this year to diligent watering. Kehr said that even during WW II he planted a garden in the South Pacific with seed his wife, Violet, sent him.

ily, including Jack's sisters and nieces and nephews from Twining, Newberry, Roscommon and Shepherd were here for the day to help Jack celebrate his birthday which falls on August 1.

A visitor in Grayling for several days was Bob Clark and his wife of Phoenix, Arizona. They visited the Museum and saw several old friends. Enroute they stopped in Union Lake to visit the Jack Perrys. Bob graduated from Grayling High School in 1943.

Phillip and Grace Stancil and family of Grand Rapids were here last week visiting various members of their family. They also stopped in for a tour of the Museum.

In the Milltown edition last week there is a picture on page 9 of the Grayling Independent Baseball team. The picture is now the property of the Historical Museum and the members of the ball team need to be identified. If anyone can recognize any of the team please call the Museum, 348-4461, or Marie Akers 348-7558, Fay Bovee 348-7017. Tell which row and which person from the left.

Family and friends and residents of the Grayling Health Care Center helped entertain one of their residents on her 90th birthday, July 25 at the center.

Mable Smith, formerly of Berkley, Mich. was born July 26, 1898, in New Jersey.

She says the only trouble with being 90 is that most of your friends and relatives have passed away and there is no one to celebrate with.

A Dance Group of Grayling Senior Citizens made it a gala affair and joined with the residents for ice cream and cake.

This same group entertains at the home every Monday night.

County Fair Offers Popular Entertainment

The County Fair Beer Tent will kick off Wednesday, Aug. 10th, with Casey and the Derailers, a popular country western band from Northeastern Michigan, headlining the entertainment.

They will be playing hits from the forties country swing, to honkey tonk right up to the current country and country rock. Casey does vocals, guitar and mandolin. Her husband, Jack, does vocals, plays bass guitar and harmonica, and Ed Gatzke does vocals and plays lead guitar. All are experienced performers and seasoned musicians, having appeared with county fairs, resort lounges, benefits plus outdoor and indoor functions from Maine to Colorado.

Thursday, Aug. 11th, the High Society Guys will perform in the beer tent.

This popular local group is well known to the Grayling area, playing pop hits. They will be performing from 9 p.m.-1 a.m.

Mike Sheets and Zann Lindsay will perform top 40 hits on Friday night, 9 p.m.-1 a.m. Aug. 12th. This duo will be backed by electronic equipment and lights to produce a quality show.

Zann grew up in Grayling and often made appearances in the area.

On Saturday, Aug. 13th, Graffiti night, Free-Wheelin' Fred Hinkle will spin 50's and 60's platters for the crowd in the beer tent. Another local, Fred has been D.J. for many occasions and enjoys playing requests. Dress for the occasion, bobby socks, T-shirts and a little grease and slide on in for a fun night!

Saturday night will also be teen night. This year, by popular vote, the fair board agreed they should hold a special event especially for the teens with live entertainment. Making a second appearance at this year's fair, and for teens only, will be Mike Sheets and Zann Lindsay performing from 9 p.m.-1 a.m. A nominal fee will be charged. Non-alcoholic beverages will be available. The teen tent will be open to those 18 and under.

A $1.00 admission fee will be charged to enter the beer tent each evening. I.D. may be required for proof of age when necessary. Popular prices will be charged for beverages.

For all four nights, there will not be a gate admission at the fair entrance after 9:00 p.m. The exhibit building and animal barn will close at 9:00 p.m., however, the midway will remain open until midnight.

County Fair Searching For Talented Local Persons

Crawford County is full of talented people and some of them will perform in the Crawford County Fair Association's First-Ever Talent Show, on Thursday, August 11, at 7:00 p.m., at the Fair Grounds.

The evening's entertainment will begin and conclude with a performance by Kay Matthews and Mike Cerven. Kay is an accomplished pianist/singer and Mike, a former Harmonicist, make the musical saw sound like a violin. They have performed separately and together in functions throughout the community.

The rest of the evening will include performances by individuals and groups competing for $225 in prizes. There are still a few openings for interested performers to register for the competition. Call (517) 348-9359 or 348-9284 for application forms.

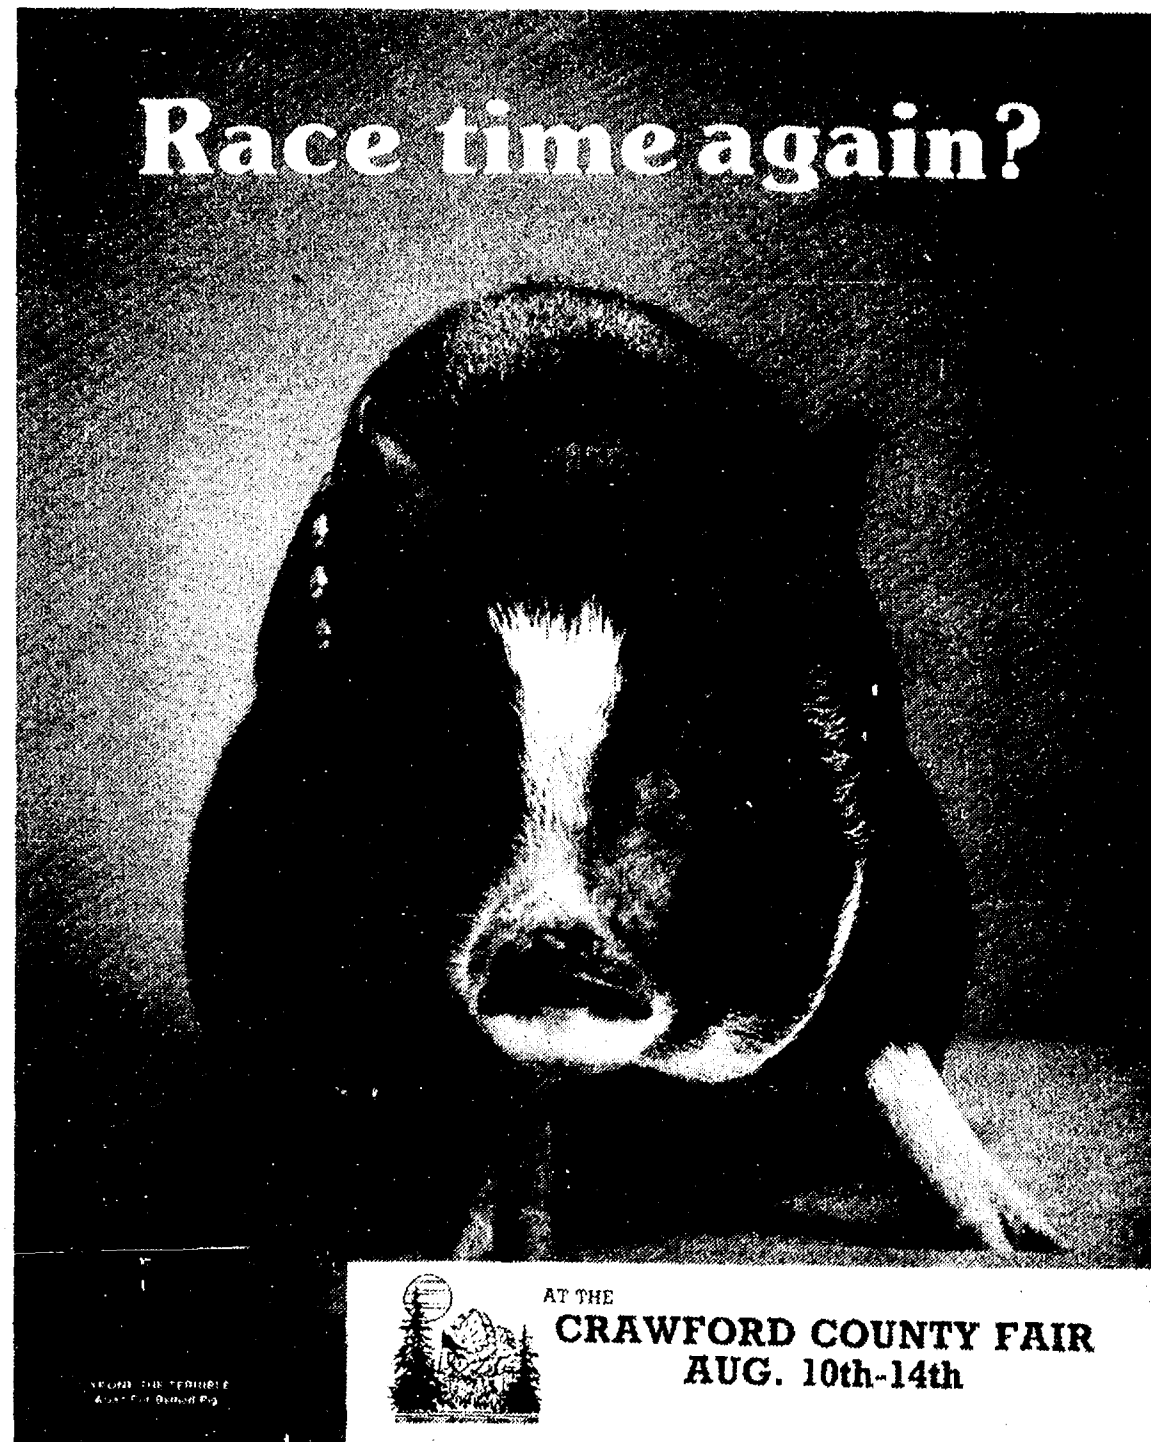

The Crawford County Fairgrounds is located on North Old 27 at the corner of M-93.

Pig Races Highlight County Fair Events

The S-H Ranch Pig Racing Stables will be operating pig races at the Crawford County Fair from Aug. 10-13.

Pig racing is fast becoming one of the nation's fastest growing spectator sports. Live pigs spring from the starting gate at the sound of the bell. After head to head heated competition on the race track winning pigs receive rewards in the special pig paddock.

Watch for some of the favorites from the International World of Swine Speedsters such as Belly Buster III, Bunny Bacon, Cool Hand Lucille, Taco Bill, Gringo Chaser, and Tijuana Tex. All the pigs will be appearing seven times each day at the Crawford County Fair.

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

The Gospel of John

Part #44

Freedom from Bondage

One must know he is in bondage before he can desire freedom. Many people who live under totalitarian government are unaware of their slavery. They accept their condition and follow the brainwashing which blinds them to their misery. Liberty and freedom are revealed in the Bible as gifts from God. Our liberty bell gives a scripture reference for the proclamation of liberty as found in Leviticus 25:10. God made America free.

The process of freedom begins with faith in Jesus Christ. (John 8:30). It continues as we walk in obedience to His Holy Word. (John 8:31). It results in freedom from the bondage of error and sin. (John 8:32). "And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free."

The unsaved religious world lives in the pretense of freedom. Notice how the Pharisees answered Christ's teaching on freedom. "...We be Abraham's seed, and were never in bondage to any man: how sayest thou, Ye shall be made free?" (John 8:33). Self righteous hypocrisy is the greatest cause of rejection of Jesus Christ. "Jesus answered them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Whosoever committeth sin is the servant of sin." (John 8:34). One must be aware of his bondage to sin before he can desire freedom in Christ. People across America are slaves to sins which are destroying their minds, bodies, families, neighborhoods, and eternal future, yet are so blinded by their vain search for temporary pleasure, they refuse to see their miserable condition. They live in depression and gloom awaiting their next high.

Only Jesus Christ offers the promise of freedom. "If the Son therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." (John 8:36). As the eternal, abiding Son of God, He alone can provide deliverance from the penalty of sin through His shed blood on the cross. He alone can provide deliverance from the power of sin in this present life. And He alone can provide the promise of deliverance from the presence of sin at His soon return.

Most liberal efforts by secular humanists to provide the good life through personal freedom and rights have resulted in the very opposite. The new morality has buried us in problems like AIDS, Herpes, abortion, drug addiction, divorce, violence, destruction of property, hopelessness, helplessness, and a growing breakdown in our entire culture. How can America continue our present course without loss of all freedom? The answer is our personal relationship to our Lord Jesus Christ. Only Christ can make us as individuals and as a nation truly free.

CHURCH DIRECTORY

The Voice Of God...

Do you ever pause to listen to the voice of God? We hear it every day, wherever we may be.

In the whispering of tall trees... the music of rushing brooks... the songs of birds... the gay laughter of happy children... we hear the voice of the Creator. Through his infinite grace a bird is enabled to serenade his mate, a tiny cricket chirps its faint refrain. God is the bringer of all blessings to man and beast alike.

Let us give thanks to Him who has so enriched our lives. Open church doors beckon all over our land. Let us seek the House of the Lord, and enter in to pay Him homage. Here through prayer and with humility, let us re-dedicate ourselves to His service and glorification.

"Section 31 (1). An individual taxpayer in computing his taxable income is allowed deductions for the full personal and dependency exemption authorized by the Federal Internal Revenue Code. The taxpayer may claim his or her spouse and dependents as exemptions, but if the taxpayer and the spouse are both subject to the tax imposed by this Ordinance, the number of exemptions claimed by each of them when added together shall not exceed the total number of exemptions allowed under this Ordinance."

"Section 31 (2) For tax years beginning after 1986, an additional exemption is allowed under Subsection (1) for a taxpayer who is 65 years of age or older, or who is blind as defined in Section 504 of Income Tax Act of 1967, Act 281 of the Public Acts of 1967 being Section 206.504 of the Michigan Compiled Laws, or if the taxpayer is both 65 years of age or older and blind, two additional exemptions are allowed under Subsection (1)."

"Section 31 (3) For tax years beginning after 1987, an additional exemption is allowed under Subsection (1) for a taxpayer who is a paraplegic, quadriplegic, hemiplegic, or totally and permanently disabled person as defined in Section 216 of Title II of the Social Security Act, 42 U.S.C. 416, or a taxpayer who is a deaf person as defined in Section 2 of the Deaf Persons Interpreter's Act, Act 204 of the Public Acts of 1982, being Section 393.502 of the Michigan Compiled Laws.

If the taxpayer qualifies for an additional exemption under more than one of the following, an additional exemption is allowed for each of the following for which the taxpayer qualifies:

(a) A taxpayer who is a paraplegic, quadriplegic, hemiplegic, or who is a totally or permanently disabled person as defined in Section 216 of Title II of the Social Security Act, 42 U.S.C. 416.

(d) A taxpayer who is 65 years of age or older."

"Section 31 (4) For tax years beginning after 1986 an exemption is allowed from the tax levied under this Act if the person's adjusted gross income for that tax year is less than $600.00, or an exemption of $600.00 for a person with respect to whom a deduction under Section 151 of the Internal Revenue Code is allowable to another federal taxpayer during the tax year and is therefore, not considered to have a federal personal exemption under Subsection 1."

Tones received the ribbon when his squadron was awarded the Commander Naval Air Pacific Battle Ef-

VFW Auxiliary On March Again

VFW Auxiliary #3736 president Lillian and LuAnn rode in the Memorial Day parade and some members were in the July 4th parade. Kim Halstead drove the National Guard bus for the group that day. He was the perfect tour guide for Grayling and made the short parade jaunt a pleasure, secretary Violet Kehr said. Ron Larson provided the transportation. The Auxiliary will also be visible in the Milltown parade with a hay ride float.

On July 17th five members went to Eaton Rapids for the National Home fun days. The five enjoyed the speakers, display of post and Auxiliary flags and a tour of the National Home grounds. They met some of the young people that reside there and shared a picnic lunch and took part in a balloon launch against drugs. Each member was given a helium filled balloon to be attached to a personal written message against drug use. The Auxiliary #3736 launched five.

Two new members were accepted into the Auxiliary at the last meeting, Roselyn Johnson and Dorris Dannels. Commander Cragg, new commander of Post 3736, spoke to the Auxiliary.

Verse or Worse

By Joseph D. Murphy

Rich or Poor

I was a very lucky lad
Blessed with a wonderful Mom and Dad
Though times were tough when I was a boy
I can't remember lacking joy
Our family worked hard but we worked together
We had a lot of fun in any weather
Most of our food we worked and raised
A bountiful harvest we always praised
The woods provided our winter's fuel
It kept our old house warm as a rule
But sometimes after a real cold night
Our old Round Oak stove was a real delight
The old kitchen range provided a lot of heat
Besides cooking food that couldn't be beat
Hot oatmeal on a cold winter morn
Soon had your tummy nice and warm
Food just don't taste the way it should
If it isn't cooked with wood
Our kerosene lamps provided the light
As we talked, played games or read at night
I guess today they'd say we lived in poverty
But we were happy as could be
We had so much fun I'm very sure
That we didn't know that we were poor
We just made do with what we had
And enjoyed life with Mom and Dad.

Resource Review

Bruce Patrick
Conservation Officer

This year's drought has again focused attention on water rights in Michigan. There is no statute that makes unlawful the extraction of water from a lake or stream, not is there any statute authorizing any state agency to control such removal. Therefore, the common law doctrine of riparian rights on inland waters must prevail. By common law, owners of property abutting a lake or stream may, as a property right, make reasonable use of the water even though such use may interfere with other riparian owners by impairing the quantity or quality of the water.

However, Michigan courts have generally held that both diversion or extraction of water for non-riparian use is wrongful, especially if it interferes with a riparian's primary right to the water.

What all of this means is that any riparian owner can take water from a lake or stream from irrigation or other purposes unless such use causes excessive loss to other riparian owners. This can be a serious problem in agricultural areas of the state where millions of gallons of water are pumped onto corn, potatoes and other crops.

Any recourse the damaged party has is through a law suit. The damage will have to be shown as substantial and continuing for the complaint to support his legal action.

Doodles From The Tall Timber

Wendell L. Hoover

Camp Clerk, Camp 5
Wendell Hoover,
Walking Boss

Logging camps were good examples of the great American melting pot. People from all different backgrounds came to them looking for employment. Salling-Hanson Camp Number Five located back in the Hartwick Pines is no different. Company workers will attest to this.

Visitors to the Pines will encounter the company clerk, blacksmith, carpenter, sawfiler and barroom man at various times—seven days a week. From them, visitors will learn of the unique characters working for Salling and Hanson in September of 1893. Because it is September, only swamper are in camp working. Loggers will not be hired on until October.

Persons talking to the clerk may hear about Old George Lundeen, the foreman. They do not get along well. George has been employed by Salling and Hanson for a good many years and has always been a penny-pincher. The clerk and George constantly argue over what supplies are essential to the camp. Most of the other men in the camp do not care for Old George either. They say he's the meanest, nastiest foreman this side of the Mississippi.

He takes a firm stand against drinking in camp and sleeping on the job. The man is not above hiding behind a tree or bush to catch an offender. George is described as being short and plump with red hair and beard.

Another camp character is Miss Hildegard, the cook. Although a good cook, she's cold toward men in camp. No one talks at the table either. She carries a rolling pin to enforce this rule.

Hildegard is as wide as she is tall with curly blond hair. Rumor has it, she was once a beautiful woman but fell in love with a deceitful young man. He left her standing at the altar. Ever since she's been working for logging camps.

These are just two of the characters you will hear about upon entering Camp Five. More character information will follow next week.

GHS Class Builds House With Garage

By Nancy Lemmen

The Grayling High School Building Trades course is in the middle of a two-year building project — a home in Sherwood Forest — located on the corner of Robinhood Lane and Arrowhead Court.

The 1232-square foot, vinyl-sided home has three bedrooms, one and 3/4 bathrooms and a 528-square foot attached garage.

The exterior of the house was finished during the 1987-88 school year, and the interior, wiring and plumbing will be completed in the coming year. Then the home will be put up for sale.

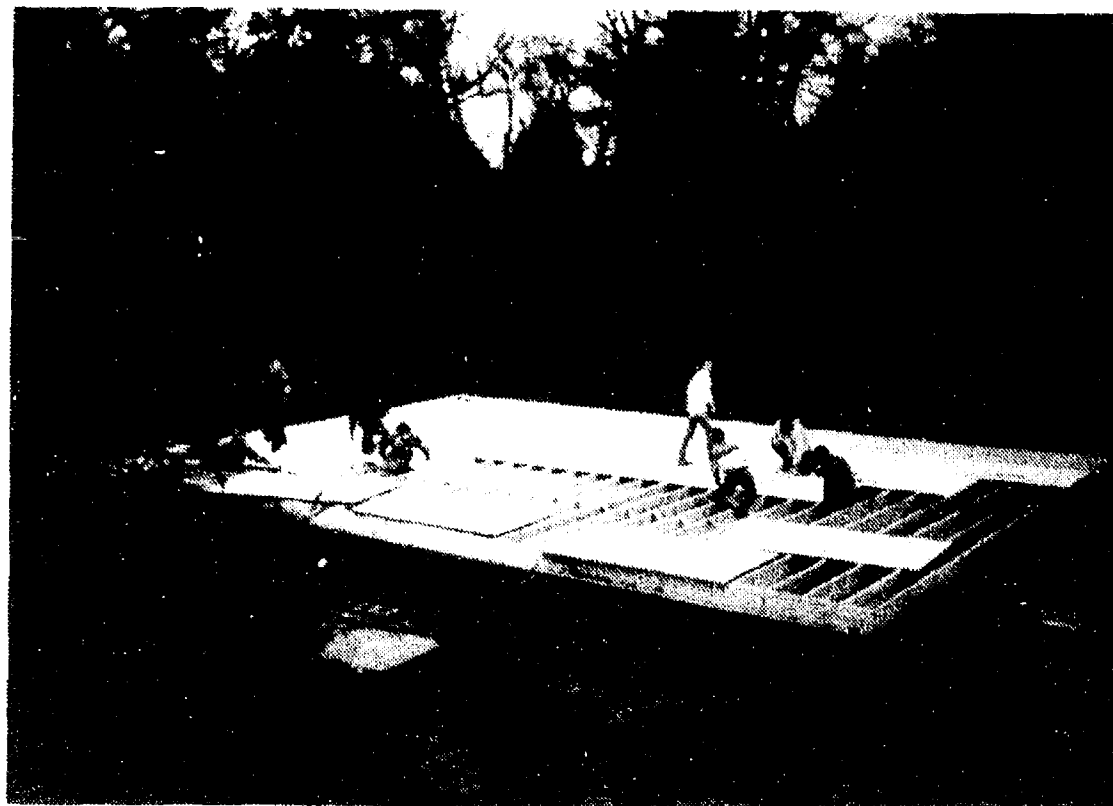

This spring, Building Trade students also built the playground equipment located at Millikin Little League Field.

Instructor Dale Lesh and his aide Jerry Ball teach the Building Trades course, which is open to juniors and seniors and which teaches basic home building skills.

Wood Shop and drafting classes are the usual prerequisites for admission into the program.

The students are divided into morning and afternoon groups. 1987-88 morning group was: Jerry Gauthier, Mark McKee, Ron Melhorn, Dennis O'Toole, Jeff Rejchelderfer, Chris Whaley and Jerry Whaley. Afternoon students were: Mike Alma, Grant Armstrong, Charles Baker, Andrew Barber, Chris Edinger, Todd Hatfield, Michelle Hatley, Vivian Mancini and Jason Small.

How did the past school year work go? Lesh says that as far as starting on the house so late in the school year, and with the cold weather we had last winter, the students did a very good job. He adds that interest is already being shown in the home, which still needs months of work before going on the market.

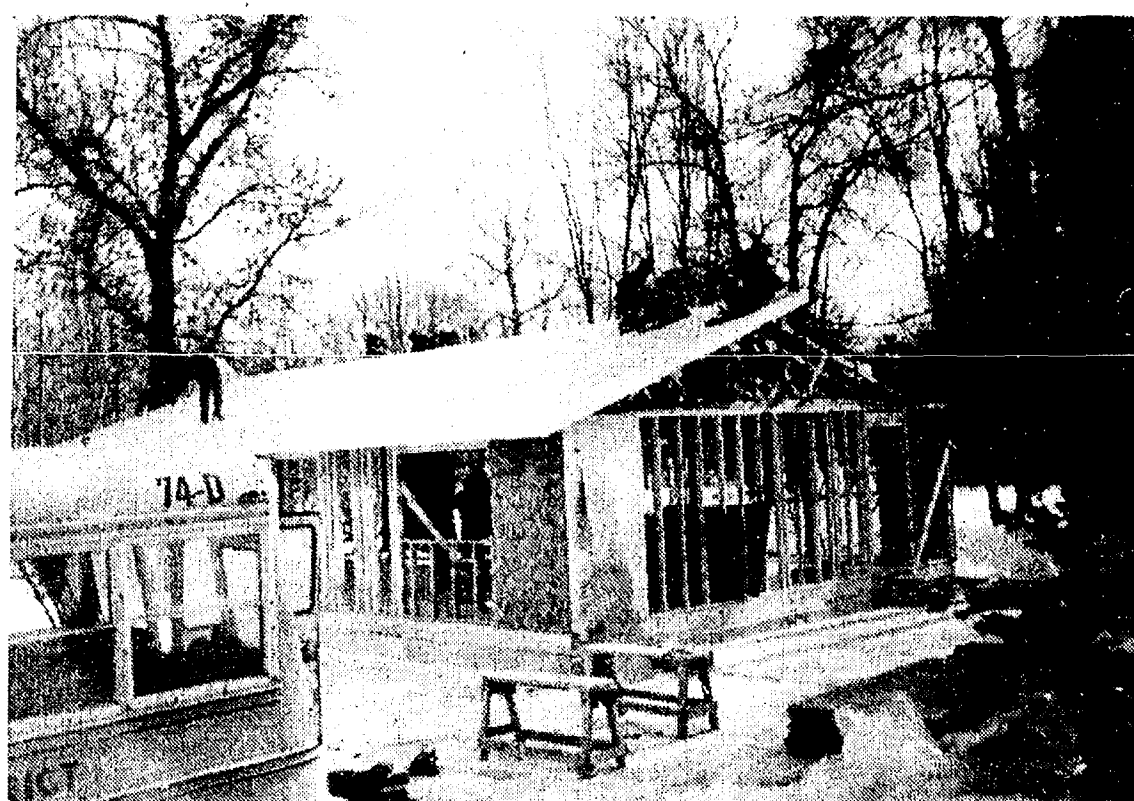

LAYING THE FLOORS — Grayling High School Building Trades students lay the floors in their 1988-89 project, located in the Sherwood Forest subdivision.

PLACING THE TRUSSES — Four GHS building trades students work on the trusses of their project house, located on the corner of Robinhood Lane and Arrowhead Court.

PLAYGROUND EQUIPMENT — Carolyn Dobry, Mary Rose Dobry and Brie Blaauw play on the monkey bars at the Little League Field. The playground equipment was constructed by the Building Trades class.
